PRINCETON WILL PLAY OPEN GAME IN FOOTBALL Believe in Kicking, Rushing and Punting-Like Forward Passes.

Princeton, N. J. April 2.—That Princeton will employ the open game in football next season was made plain in a letter to the Daily Princetonian today from Knowiton L. Ames, '90, chairman of the graduate coaching.

"Captain Ballin, W. G. Penfield, the field coach and the committee all believe strongly in an open game, or as it is now called, the forward passing game, the letter states. "They also believe in drop kicking, rushing and punting, but belief and spirit and loypunting, but belief and spirit and loyalty do not make prowess or bring skill in these different departments. It takes good forward passers and receivers and good drop kickers, etc. to play successfully the different styles of game, and when you have them there is practically no defense—no more than there is to a ten second man when he gets loose.
